ITALY REPORTS RUSSIAN GAINS

Story of Success Over Austrians Unconfirmed.

VIENNA CABINET UPHEAVAL

Resignation of Three Members Is Alleged to Be a Protest Against Germany's Attempt to Force a Zollverein on Austria-Hungary and a Warning That There Is Economic Danger Ahead.

London, Dec. 2.—Dispatches to the Italian newspapers, which have been retransmitted to London, report Russian successes in Bukovina. The Corriere d'Italia's Bucharest correspondent even asserts that the Russians have captured Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina, after four days of fighting.

The Morning Post's Hungarian correspondent says:

"The resignation of the three Austrian cabinet members is a protest against Germany's attempt to force a zollverein on Austria and Hungary and a warning to the people of Austria-Hungary that there is economic danger ahead."

"Germany's zollverein policy already has aroused bitter opposition in both the Austrian and Hungarian governments. There is little doubt that the conference between the two emperors had reference to a tariff union and that the ministers who opposed it had to resign."

"Dr. Rudolf Schusler von Bonetti, minister of commerce, who was among those to resign, in a recent speech opposed the German scheme. He is a shining light in the circles that fear after the war Germany, cut off from exploiting the entente countries, is preparing to swallow Austria-Hungary under the guise of a customs union."

CAUSES MUCH SPECULATION

Three Austrian Cabinet Ministers Tender Resignations.

London, Dec. 2.—Emperor William's visit to Vienna, which coincided with the resignation of three of the Austrian cabinet ministers, is the cause of much speculation. The two events are variously assumed to be connected with the reported effort of Germany to force Austria into a German zollverein, a desire of Emperor Francis Joseph to secure a separate peace, through the intervention of Pope Benedict, and a rumored dispute between Austria and Bulgaria over the division of Serbian territory.

Meantime the operations in the Balkans and the movements of the armies of the central powers continue with unabated energy. Like Germany, Bulgaria announces that with the capture of Pribrenje her campaign against Serbia has come to an end, which seems to support the suggestion that to avoid a dispute with Greece, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has decided against the occupation of Monastir, the only town of any importance remaining in Serbian hands.

ESCH WILL INTRODUCE ARMY SCHEME

La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 2.—Congressman J. J. Esch will introduce in the house during the coming session of congress a bill providing for a reserve army organized on an entirely different basis from that proposed by Secretary of War Garrison in the administration preparedness program. Representative Esch will propose that an auxiliary army consisting of 200,000 men be enlisted for one year, and that a solid year's military training be given the reserves, both in barracks and field.

Racine, Wis., Dec. 2.—Mrs. William Scott, seventy years old, a wealthy widow, was robbed of her handbag, containing $125 in cash and certificates of deposit to the amount of $700, while shopping in the business district.

A stranger grabbed the big, wrenched it from her grasp and fled down the main thoroughfare, pursued by a dozen autoists and scores of men and boys, who were drawn to the chase by the screams of the aged victim. About one hundred shoppers were in the immediate vicinity of the scene. The thief eluded capture after zig-zagging around corners for a dozen blocks.

NEW BERLIN DEMAND CONFRONTS BELGIUM

Amsterdam, Dec. 2.—When the year covered by the original war levy on Belgium expired last month it was reported here that the German administration would continue to collect at the rate of 10,000,000 francs monthly without stating the total sum desired or the period of its collection.

Later, according to prominent Belgians who recently left their country, the German authorities announced they would require the sum of 480,000,000 francs, collectable as previously in monthly sums of 40,000,000 francs each, but that security for the sum total was to be provided immediately. Unless such securities were voluntarily produced, the Belgian travelers reported, private banking accounts and safe deposits were to be seized by the German administrators as collateral for the levy.

URGES CATTLE INSPECTION

Chicago Official Advocates Measures to Combat Tuberculosis.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Dr. John D. Robertson, health commissioner of Chicago, advocated periodical inspection of dairy herds and restrictive measures in combating tuberculosis among live stock.

Speaking before the annual meeting of the United States Live Stock Sanitary association Dr. Robertson said:

"If there could be periodical inspection of the dairy herds of Illinois, exclusion of cattle not accompanied by a clean bill of health, and compensation for condemned cattle, I venture to predict that in five years' time there would not be a tubercular dairy herd in the state."

The trio gave their names as William Elliott, Charles Hoffman and William Clark.

They maintained luxurious apartments in Riverside drive.

QUARRELS WITH GERMAN CENSOR

Berlin Paper Wants Free Discussion of Peace.

MILITARY SITUATION IS GOOD

Another Journal Favors Plan of Social Democrats to Ask the Imperial Chancellor Under What Conditions He Is Prepared to Begin Negotiations to End War.

Amsterdam, Dec. 2.—Persons in Holland, who recently have maintained that some sort of peace negotiations actually were under way in Germany and that a sudden peace was among the possibilities, are pointing to an editorial in the Berlin Vorwarts as lending strength to their arguments.

The editorial in question quarrels with the German censor for refusing to allow a discussion of peace in the newspapers and declares that it is certain most important facts are being suppressed.

"It is necessary at this time," says the editorial, "to discuss the possibilities of peace, because if peace comes suddenly a storm may arise for which only the diplomats and statesmen can be blamed. Public opinion will not tolerate peace at this time."

APPROVES PEACE INQUIRY

Berlin Paper Supports Plan of Social Democrats.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The Berliner Tageblatt is the first newspaper to come out in approval of the plan of the Social Democrats to ask Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg under what conditions he is prepared to begin peace negotiations.

"For our part," says the newspaper, "we cannot see why such a question should not be directed to the chancellor nor why he should not answer it. It is believed that an answer would be regarded abroad as a sign of 'weakness.' The military position of Germany and its allies is so strong that it should not bother us what the entente newspapers might write. The British place no such restrictions on themselves and care little what constructions are placed on this or that word."

In Southeastern Serbia, where the British, French and Serbians hold strong positions, the snow still prevents any movements of importance.

WOMAN'S REALM

PROBLEM OF PUBLIC LEISURE

Title of Entertaining Lecture Given by Miss Lurie Stearns at Chamber of Commerce

MADE A PLEA FOR THE LIBRARY

Should be an Invaluable Adjunct to the Schools and Means of Self-Education for Many

At the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night Miss Lurie Stearns of Milwaukee, gave a large audience a talk on "The Problem of Public Leisure" which contained much food for thought, and many ideas entirely practical for our own city. Miss Stearns began by protesting against having been advertised as a humorist, insisting that she had never made but one attempt to be funny, and that was unsuccessful. And then she told a funny story to prove her point.

Before taking up her particular subject, the speaker mentioned eight great problems which the world must solve: the labor problem, the liquor problem, the war problem, the woman problem, the race problem, the problem of popular government, the problem of popular education, and, finally, the problem of public leisure. Touching briefly each of these, Miss Stearns found hope in the progress made thus far in each.

Coming to her own subject, she divided the day into periods—eight hours of work, eight hours for sleep, three hours for meals, and five for leisure. And the leisure hours constitute the problem. The speaker made a plea for more good reading, better movies, better dances and community singing. She wants the school houses to be working all the time instead of five hours a day, five days a week. Young people will dance, and the modern way to fight the objectionable dance is to make it possible for young and old to come together in the right sort of surroundings, and make of the dance a clean, wholesome recreation instead of a menace. In some cities dances are given in the church parlors, whole families attending, and enjoying evenings of good cheer.

Miss Stearns believes in the "movies," that is, in some "movies." They are another form of amusement she likes to see in the schoolhouses, the churches and libraries, on the same theory that the way to fight a bad thing is to take the good part of it, and raise it so high that it becomes a power of good. There are so many splendid moving pictures, both instructive and entertaining, that can be substituted for the pictures with a degrading influence. She urges local censorship as the most effective means of securing the best possible pictures in the commercial playhouses, and the installation of picture machines in the schools especially.

Community singing was another recreation which Miss Stearns advocated as a means of bringing all classes together and furnishing a worth-while amusement for everybody, and working toward that great end which she calls "Community Unity."

But it was in her plea for the library that she was most effective. The library is the one institution in any town for which the whole community may work together, without being split into sections or creeds. She told of the good done by the traveling libraries in country districts, and how much more could be done with a big public library such as we have. It should be an invaluable adjunct to the school and a means of self education for those who have missed the advantages that children are enjoying. Thomas A. Edison educated himself entirely in public libraries. It should be a place for various activities not necessarily directly connected with books—in other words a real social center. Much depends upon the librarian who can, if she is efficient, extend the library's sphere of influence indefinitely, by showing the public how to use this great storehouse of information, not waiting till people come to the library but convincing them in many ways that it is worth while for them to come. She told of libraries where a children's librarian is employed, who tells the children stories on Saturday mornings, stimulating their interest in reading and directing that interest properly.

But there must be funds for this work, and she deplored the fact that the people of Brainerd refused to vote a larger tax for this purpose.

Miss Stearns' lecture last night was along more serious lines than the talk she gave in Duluth at the State Federation meeting, but her good humor permeated the whole and she left with her audience a message that will be long remembered.

MUSICAL ART CLUB

Mrs. C. A. Weyerhaeuser Sings at High School Auditorium in Little Falls

Little Falls Herald:—A splendid program was carried out at the meeting of the club Friday evening, at the high school auditorium, by Mrs. C. A. Weyerhaeuser of this city and Miss Alta Rogers of Duluth.

Mrs. Weyerhaeuser's singing won rounds of applause from the large audience. It had been some time since Mrs. Weyerhaeuser sang before a Little Falls audience and it was indeed a pleasure to hear her again. Her rendition of the Bohemian folk song was especially pleasing and she was called upon to repeat it.

Miss Rogers, pianist, made her first appearance here on Friday night. Her playing was fine and won for her the assurance that she will be welcome to appear here again. Her work as accompanist was excellent and her ability as such was plainly demonstrated.

At the meeting of the literary section of the Musical Art club at the library parlors Tuesday evening Rev. Philip E. Gregory gave a talk on the subject, "The Modern Novel as a Social Force." He said that there are bad or quack novels as well as there are medicines of that kind. He said that the novel which will show how the bad may be removed and improvement be made is a force for the betterment of society. Mrs. L. J. Marshall took part in the discussion and cited some authors and their works which in her opinion are social forces. A general discussion of the subject followed.

War Upon Pain!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful. Mervin H. Solter, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new. March, 1915." At druggists, 25c.—Advt.

Weather prediction for the Mesaba range—Dry and dusty, many cobwebs will be noticed.

The loss of life during the hunting season in the north woods has been lighter this season than for fifteen years. Five men have been killed in Wisconsin and seven in Michigan north country, with Minnesota yet to be heard from. In the two states mentioned last year 61 hunters lost their lives while roaming the woods in quest of big game.

Look out for those counterfeit $100 bills that are floating around. Newspaper men especially are cautioned about taking in any great number of bills of this denomination on subscription without a careful inspection of the same to ascertain whether the top button on the waistcoat that adorns the portrait of President Monroe has a line running across it horizontally and vertically. If so, give the subscriber credit, but if the line on the aforesaid button runs horizontally only hand the bill back—it's counterfeit.

The announcement of the president's purpose to consult with republicans regarding his plan for national defense indicates a change in his attitude almost as great as that shown by his shift on the question of military preparedness. It is only ten months ago that Mr. Wilson went to Indianapolis and made his Jackson day speech. His utterances then demonstrated his opinion that the republican party merited no consideration whatever in national affairs. He declared the party to be a "covert and a refuge for those who are afraid." Is that why he is now turning to the republican party? Is he afraid that his belated conversion to preparedness cannot be imposed upon his party in congress and is he therefore turning to the republican party as "a covert and a refuge."

It Is Criminal To Own a Drink in Idaho

BY D. W. GREENBURG
(Written for the United Press)

Moscow, Idaho, Dec. 2.—Idaho's new statute making it a crime for any persons to have liquor in his possession is to be tested for constitutionality in the U. S. supreme court. The high court's decision may have important bearing on the nationwide battle of the wets and dries. The district and supreme courts of Idaho have declared the law constitutional.

The wets say the law is unconstitutional; because section XIV of the federal constitution says "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law."

The Idaho supreme court upheld the law on the theory that "the legislature is supreme and can denounce as a crime the possession of whiskey if in its judgment such denunciation is essential to the health, morale and safety of the public."

Should the U. S. court declare constitutional this law prohibiting the possession of liquor by individuals in prohibition territory, the dries are expected to make capital of it in all wet territory, and to seek a national law like the one in Idaho. Should the law finally be declared unconstitutional, the wets are expected to do the talking.

The test case revolves around the arrest and conviction of Ed Crane, a Moscow laboring man, on the charge of having a bottle of whiskey in his possession. Crane is in jail.

The only intoxicating liquor anyone may own in Idaho is a limited amount of alcohol, held under strict regulation by druggists for medicinal purposes; and sacramental wine possessed by clergymen.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Best

The best is showing that splendid comedy-drama, "Mrs. Plum's Plum Pudding." Here is the story:

Mrs. Plum and her son live on a small ranch. Oil is discovered and Mrs. Plum goes to the city to register her claim, with her son as her companion. In the city an English lord and his valet are stopping at a fashionable hotel. He is in search of an heiress to save his estates. In the office of the oil company a young clerk, who moves in society, but is really a crook, determines to steal the old lady's papers. The English lord is about to be dispossessed. He makes the acquaintance of Mrs. Plum and her son and they are overawed at meeting a real lord. He tells them they should move in the best society and arranges to have them meet Mrs. Van Zant and her daughter, who are short on funds.

They are introduced and Mrs. Van Zant, for a monetary consideration, agrees to take the couple under her wing and show them the inside of society life. Mrs. Van Zant is giving a big reception in her friends' honor and Mrs. Plum writes back to Olive to tell her friends, Harry and Jake, of the swell "doings" and to invite them to come on.

The reception is a big success, and the only excitement is the arrival of Harry and Jake in their "oilfield clothes." Eddie has fallen in love with Betty Van Zant and she returns his affections. The Lord Burlington plays the part of a cavalier lover to Mrs. Plum and she is foolishly fond of him. The crooks learn of the reception and, having gained an entrance to Mrs. Plum's room, take what they believe to be her papers and escape. When the loss is discovered there is wild confusion and the Lord is so disappointed that he refuses to be married.

Mrs. Plum is overcome and it takes all of her friends' persuasion to get her calm again. The crooks did not get the right plans as Mother Plum was not such a "sucker" as they thought, and she, becoming suspicious, had hidden them elsewhere. When the detective fails to find the real papers in the hands of the crooks, he insists on searching the guests. Mrs. Plum then confesses that what was stolen were only the counterfeit papers and that she had pretended to be ruined to test the Lord's affection. Meanwhile Eddie and Betty, in the excitement, get married. The Lord returns to his hotel and is torn between love for the widow and worry about his estate. Finally he resolves not to be a cad and returns to the widow in spite of her supposed loss of fortune.

Mrs. Van Zant has refused to let her daughter marry Eddie, but the young people have been too quick for her, and after the news, there is wild rejoicing. Lord Burlington returns, confesses that he loves the widow more than her money, and proposes to her, thinking her poor. But great is his surprise to find her still with wealth.

The fact that the state development conference held at St. Paul December 1st came just at this time also gives added interest to the meeting at Bemidji. The Northern Minnesota Development association, pioneer in the development association field in the state, will undoubtedly have some suggestions to make in line with the movement started by Governor Hammond for the uniting of the state in plans for development.

County associations, commercial clubs and other bodies are naming delegates to the Bemidji meeting, and one of the best gatherings in the history of the Association is indicated. About 400 exhibits of potatoes from children entered in the boys' and girls' potato contest will be shown; and a large showing of potatoes by adults is also expected.

The Bemidji Pioneer says: The importance of the question of lowering the lake level in the reservoir district of Northern Minnesota cannot be too forcibly impressed on the people living in this district. The question of controlling these waters so that they will aid commerce and at the same time cause the minimum of damage to land and property in the district is a deep question, and it is worthy of a serious consideration of every citizen who has the best interests of this state and particularly this locality at heart.

When the Northern Minnesota Development association meets here in December, there, undoubtedly, will be a great many people from various parts of the district, who are vitally interested, present to give their views on this important subject. An effort will be made to get statistics from the war department, which would enable the delegates to the meeting to show how much land would be reclaimed by reason of lowering the lake level. The power companies should have representatives present at this meeting and those who are engaged in commerce on the lower Mississippi should be present so that both sides of the case can be presented and a full and complete discussion had. Some basis should be derived at for the common benefit of all.

This is an important matter and every man should lend his assistance to have it solved. It means much to the development of Northern Minnesota.

Northern Minnesota Development Association will Discuss Matter at Bemidji Meeting

An important addition has been made to the program of the annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association to be held at Bemidji next Thursday and Friday, December 9th and 10th. A meeting called for Federal Dam for December 8th to discuss the fixing of levels on border waters and the effect on the drainage system of border counties has been called off and the subject will be discussed at the meeting of the development association December 9th.

All of the counties in the northwestern part of the state are interested in the subject and early action must be taken if serious damage to the development of swamp lands is to be averted. The fact that the subject is to be discussed will bring many additional people to the meeting of the association.

The fact that the state development conference held at St. Paul December 1st came just at this time also gives added interest to the meeting at Bemidji. The Northern Minnesota Development association, pioneer in the development association field in the state, will undoubtedly have some suggestions to make in line with the movement started by Governor Hammond for the uniting of the state in plans for development.

County associations, commercial clubs and other bodies are naming delegates to the Bemidji meeting, and one of the best gatherings in the history of the Association is indicated.

"Jingle Ad Man" in Brainerd

C. A. Goldsborough, widely known to newspapermen of the great northwest and the Pacific coast country as the "Jingle Ad Man," is in Brainerd engaged in soliciting advertisements from the local business men for a special Christmas page of Jingle Rhyme Ads. to appear in an early issue of the Daily Dispatch.

As Mr. Goldsborough's proposition is not only very novel and unique, consisting of advertisements all arranged in the form of rhymes, into which are skillfully woven quotations from the poets, and for the finding of one which two substantial cash prizes will be given by this newspaper, we bespeak for him the courteous attention of our business people while he explains his plan to them, believing that his page of rhymes will prove very pleasing to all of our readers and that under the heading, "A Bunch of Brainerd's Live Ones," it will be one of the most industriously read newspaper pages that has appeared in this city for a long time.

SHORT ON HYPO-CHLORIDE

Material Used for Purifying Water Soars in Price, War is the Cause Little Falls Report

Cities depending on hypo-chloride for purifying their water supply are seriously affected by a shortage brought about by the European war. The price has almost tripled since the war began and from present indications will go still higher. According to the Little Falls Herald conditions in Little Falls resemble those in Brainerd.

Little Falls Water Power company uses hypo-chloride in the purification of the water supply here but have not been affected by the shortage, as they anticipated a shortage and put in a big supply. They have enough on hand to last four or five months. When the local company put in its last supply the contract price was 2 cents per pound, whereas now it is 5 cents per pound and almost impossible to get.

MAXWELL MAN HERE

District Manager J. W. Sharp Called on W. E. Lively, Crow Wing County Agent

A spirited selling campaign of Maxwell cars is to be inaugurated in this county and advertising publicity appropriate thereto is to be run in the Daily and Weekly Dispatch by the company of which W. E. Lively is the Crow Wing county agent.

Mr. Lively was visited by J. W. Sharp, district manager of the company. Pictures were taken of the Lively store and of Mr. Lively himself and both will appear in Maxwell ads. It is the first appearance of the kind in such picture by Mr. Lively. Maxwell cars, said Mr. Lively, will be sold on a time-payment plan which will put them in the reach of all. This plan enables the man of average means to buy a car and enjoy it while he is paying for it, and enables him, as well, to pay for it out of his regular income. At present I make immediate delivery under this 'Pay as You Ride Plan.'

MIKE GIBBONS CONFIDENT

Young Fighter Recently at Brainerd Expects to Win Over Ahearn

Mike Gibbons, who is to fight Young Ahearn, the European middle-weight champion, in a ten-round battle for the world's title at the St. Paul Auditorium, Friday, December 10th, is hard at work in St. Paul getting himself into perfect trim for this, his most important fight.

Mike recently spent four days in the Minnesota woods at Crooked Lake near Brainerd, where he also examined some land for the location of a summer home and camp. He tramped about the rough country and came home looking the picture of health. He realizes that he will have no easy mark when he faces Ahearn and is taking no chances in being caught unfit physically.

New Yorkers are backing Ahearn to beat the Phantom. They doubtless are basing their hopes on Mike's recent showing with Packey McFarland, when the speedy Gibbons was obliged to take off so much weight that he entered the ring haggard and weakened. Mike learned a valuable lesson at that time and will no more attempt to fight at so low a weight.

New Yorkers have also been laboring under the impression that Mike has been afraid of Ahearn. This they say because Mike has been in no hurry to sign up for this battle. Mike, on the contrary, has never been afraid of any battler in the ring today. He has been waiting for the proper inducement and when it came he did not hesitate to grab it.

The Gibbons-Ahearn battle will be the biggest thing from a monetary standpoint that has ever been staged in this vicinity. The purse for the main bout alone is $10,000. Each of the fighters is guaranteed $5000.

St. Andrews Party Held

Special to Dispatch:—

Woodrow, Minn., Dec. 1—A St. Andrews party was held at the home of Peter Buchan and Schotchmen to the number of twenty gathered for an evening of entertainment and sumptuous feasting.

The bill of fare included real Scotch haggies, turkey, pork, potato scones, creamed potatoes, Scotch shortcake, cucumbers, tomatoes, ice cream, oatmeal cakes, etc. Serving the feast were Mrs. Buchan and her daughter, Mrs. Mathison, and Mrs. William Watters.

Among the Scotch and those of Scotch origin present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Buchan, Mr. and Mrs. William Watters, their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mathison, Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Brown, Duncan Eagleson, known as "Scotty," Wm. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon, Dean Coventry, G. P. Marshall, Wm. Blaissonette, Mr. Peacock and others.

Wm. Mathison, who made such an eloquent speech at the time of his wedding, was prevailed upon to speak again and also to sing several Gaelic songs, which were highly appreciated. "Scotty" Eagleson gave imitations of Harry Lauder, the great comedian. Mr. Buchan gave the recitation "The Death of Montrose."

G. P. Marshall played violin solos. Peter T. Brown sang several songs and Mrs. Watters gave vocal selections. After the feasting and program there was dancing. Altogether it was a "Braw Scotch nicht" with Scotch reels, highland flings, etc.

The St. Andrews toasts were especially interesting. One was responded to by P. T. Brown on "The Country I Love," and one by Dean Coventry on "The Country of My Adoption."

WINTER CARE OF BRIDGES

G. W. Cooley, Highway Engineer, Gives Advice to Prevent Unnecessary Wear of Bridges

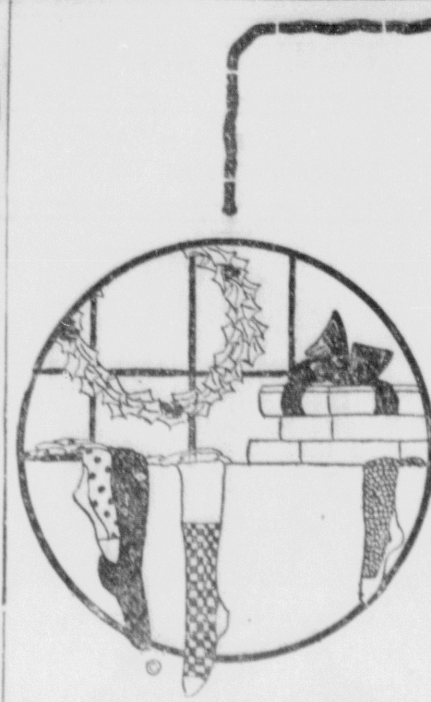

George W. Cooley, engineer of the state highway commission, has given some advice on winter care of bridges which, if followed, will save counties in Minnesota thousands of dollars this winter. The advice has been sent to superintendents and district engineers for distribution where it will do most good.

According to Engineer Cooley, there are wooden floors on about 80 per cent of the bridges which need a protecting sheet of snow to prevent the sharp-shod horses from wearing out the planks. Snow should be hauled on the bridge as soon as some of the snow that is on the bridge is blown off. This would protect the bridges and make it easier for the sleighs, Cooley says.

Guard stakes or a light rail fence should be erected to prevent accidents, the instructions read, as many of the earth's approaches are too narrow to allow passing, and this condition cannot be seen after the snow has drifted in along the roadway.

In cases where streams are endangering the abutments or piers by undermining," says Cooley, "stones should be hauled to the bridges and so deposited that the flood waters in the spring will not wash out the bridge.

"Stone and concrete bridges contract with lower temperature. For example, a 100-foot bridge is about an inch shorter in winter than in summer. Provision is made for one end of the bridge to slide on steel plates or more on rollers, and examination should be made to see that the rollers are not blocked by dirt."

NATIONAL PAY-UP WEEK

Waukon, Iowa, has Tried it Successfully, and Grand Forks, N. D., is Putting it on

What promises to become an annual national event has been inaugurated as National Pay-Up Week, February 21-26, inclusive.

Credit is one of the great assets of our present day system of business, but like many another good thing, it is sometimes abused and overdone; and because so many people are careless about paying their accounts, there are millions upon millions of dollars in outstanding accounts in this country today that could be paid without inconveniencing the debtor, and if all these millions of dollars were put into circulation during one week, there would be the greatest week of prosperity ever known in this country.

While credit is a great thing it at the same time becomes a tax when abused. The man who does not pay his debts pays a penalty for tax every time he buys a dollar's worth of merchandise; but not only must he pay this tax, but the man who pays his debts is compelled to bear his share of this unjust tax—a tax collected in increased price on the commodities of life occasioned by the failure of the debtor to pay his bills.

It is often said that the customers of the retail merchants who pay cash pay more for their merchandise than they should, because they have to pay for what a deadbeat gets without paying, and there is much truth in the statement, too—the man who pays his bills, pays cash, does really pay more for the commodities of life than he should pay because so many do not pay.

National Pay-Up Week had its beginning in the little city of Waukon, Iowa, a county seat of but little over 2,000 population at the end of a little railway in the northeastern part of the state of Iowa. Waukon is a beautiful little city, and a busy business center, but the people of that community are like the people in many another town and community—that is, some of them have, during the past years, bought goods for which they never paid, until the week of January 9-15, 1915, the principal of the high school, who happens to be secretary of the Commercial club, suggested that it would be a good thing for Waukon to have a day of reckoning, or rather, a week of reckoning. The idea appealed to the business men of Waukon, more particularly to the merchants who had considerable money in outstanding accounts. So the week of January 9-15, was advertised as Pay-Up Week, and during that time in this little city, over $50,000 in old accounts was wiped off the books of the local business houses.

Everybody seemed to join in the spirit, and consequently all found it easy to pay their debts. And it is needless to say that prosperity reigned in that town, for it means something to a town of 2,000 population to lift a debt of $50,000 in one week's time, and especially when part of the debt is so old that it has been considered uncollectible.

The results of Pay-Up Week at Waukon were so good that the Merchants Trade Journal, a national magazine read by retail merchants in every town of any consequence in the entire country, told its readers of the success of the Waukon people in paying their debts and urged business men in other towns to give greater attention to their collections, and soon other towns began trying the plan—all with splendid results. And now the entire country seems ready for this extraordinary event of National Pay-Up Week.

Our credit is national in its scope. The manufacturer extends credit to the jobber, the jobber carries the retail merchant, the merchant in turn extends credit to his customers, and, therefore, every business interest should be interested in a National Pay-Up Week. If local people in towns would make it a point to pay the doctor, the preacher, the grocer and all other merchants, and the merchant made it a point to pay the wholesaler and the jobber, and the wholesaler to pay the manufacturer during this week, February 21-26, there would be more dollars put in circulation in this country than were ever started moving during the same length of time.

A good slogan to be used from now till National Pay-Up Week would be, "You pay your bills—I will pay mine, February 21-26."

Along the Main Line. He—The train was so crowded this morning that I couldn't get a seat. She—Goodness, what was the matter? He—The train was four minutes late and nobody missed it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

DEMOCRATS HAVE SLATE COMPLETED

No Contests on Foot When Congress Convenes.

COMMITTEES ARE FILLED.

Clark to Be Speaker, Kitchin Leader, Fitzgerald, Webb, Flood, Hay and Padgett Chairmen of Big Committees—Only Contest in Party Will Be Over Preparedness.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 2.—[Special.]—The settlement of all the preliminaries long in advance of the meeting of congress takes away much interest in the approaching session. We know who is to be speaker, for there has not been an instance since 1861 when the speaker-ship was not determined long in advance.

But we know more than that. The selection of the important committee chairmanships has been determined upon, most of the assignments to committee places agreed to and many of the interesting contests settled.

Champ Clark will be speaker, Claude Kitchin chairman of the ways and means committee, John Fitzgerald chairman of appropriations, Webb of North Carolina chairman of judiciary, Hal Flood of Virginia chairman of foreign affairs, Jim Hay of Virginia chairman of military affairs, Padgett of Tennessee chairman of naval affairs, and so on down the list. The slate is all made up, and the interesting contests of years ago are lacking.

Contest Over Policy.

If those Democrats who are really opposed to the president's plan for military preparation should assert themselves there would be a right lively time in the Democratic caucus. It will be possible for a fight even now, for there are quite a number of members who are ready to assert their independence and who will refuse to follow the president. Quite a number are sticking to the Wilson declaration of a year ago and will quote the president's message of 1914 against his message of this year on the subject of military matters. At that time he said the people clamoring for preparation were "nervous and excited." Many Democrats believe that there has been no reason for a change and that the United States is in no more danger now than it was a year ago.

A Test of Strength.

The Democratic caucus will afford an opportunity for a partial test of strength. The opponents of the president will know just how many men will stand out against the president's policy. As quite a number of house members have said they were in favor of the naval program, but against any increase in the army, it is possible that the entire policy will not be tested in the first caucus. As the message of the president will not have been read at that time, many men will plead lack of information before going on record for or against the new policy of preparedness.

Would Please Republicans.

Republicans in the senate are somewhat disappointed because there is to be no effort to displace Senator Clarke of Arkansas as president pro tem, on account of his opposition last winter to the ship purchase bill. "I would like to see that fight," remarked one of the Republican senators. "It would be very interesting, and I am not sure but what most of the Republicans would vote for Clarke, not only to help along the split, but because they like him."

Takes Things Easy.

If the entire senate was composed of men of Senator Overman's temperament business would proceed in a leisurely manner. The North Carolina senator never likes to rush. There is a subcommittee, of which Overman is a member, which has been considering a dry subject of law, and to one of them a man remarked that he presumed Overman was not working very hard.

"Oh," was the reply, "Overman likes work—he likes to watch it."

Child Labor Bill.

The opponents of a strict child labor bill are getting ready for a hard fight in the present congress. Last congress the advocates of child labor legislation allowed the measure to lag along, and the opponents insisted upon protracted hearings, which meant delay. The result was that the bill was defeated. One of the sleek ways of defeating legislation is to hold hearings until late in the session and report the bill too late for action. Possibly the advocates of this legislation will be more vigorous during the coming congress and make an effort to get it out of the committee in time for a vote in congress.

Champ to Be Wilson's Champion.
Champ Clark goes to the defense of President Wilson with much more pleasure because William J. Bryan is on the other side. Champ would no doubt be very glad if it were possible to have Bryan an opponent on the floor of the house. He would also like to meet Bryan as the opponent of Wilson in the next Democratic convention. Then he could say a few things that have been on his mind since the Baltimore convention. He may say them during the debate on the military program, especially if Bryan is quoted to any extent by the opponents of the president's program.

Misery in Back, Headache and Pain in Limbs.

Dear Mr. Editor—For more than a year I suffered with misery in the back, dull headache, pain in the limbs, was somewhat constipated and slept poorly at night until I was about ready to collapse. Seeing an account of the wonderful qualities of "Anurie," prepared by Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I sent for a box, and before using the whole box I felt and still feel improved. My sleep is refreshing, misery reduced, and life is not the drag it was before. I most cheerfully recommend this remedy to sufferers from like ailments.

Yours truly, W. A. ROBERTS.

NOTE: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists of Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles.

Up to this time, "Anurie" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Dr. Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach of all sufferers.

I know of one or two leading druggists in town who have managed to procure a supply of "Anurie" for their anxious customers in and around this locality. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

EDITOR—Please insert this letter in some conspicuous place in your paper.
